

MISSION STATEMENT

CPI is committed to first class service from initial enquiries throughout the whole process of product prototyping; evaluation, quotation, manufacturing, sales, delivery and after sales services. CPI strives to improve company policies and procedures by constantly reviewing how as a company, CPI can do things better for you the customer.

CPI considers itself the first choice for the manufacture & test of electronic systems, delivering products of outstanding quality and reliability whilst offering excellent backup at a competitive cost. The use of modern technologies and processes combines with CPI's highly qualified and motivated staff ensuring that technical and commercial skills are constantly developed.

CPI is proud of it's cutting edge facilities which provide a safe, hygienic and ESD static free environment. This ensures both the safety of staff and the highest quality products. CPI provides ongoing training for all staff ensuring that the latest processes and technologies are utilised efficiently and to their maximum.